FACE RECOGNITION

AUTOMATIC FACE RECOGNITION MODULE

The face recognition module allows automatic detection of people in the different television signals and/or streamings that we are receiving.

The system allows people to be registered by uploading multiple images to be recognized in the different signals. It allows searching, as well as exporting reports and generating alerts.

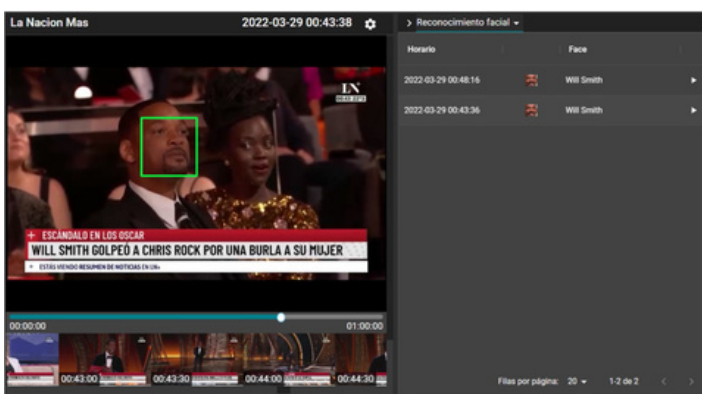

Many people can be uploaded, and the more images per person uploaded, the better the recognition algorithm will perform. A minimum of 10 images is required.

Our face recognition module has an intuitive and user-friendly interface for easy use and management of the tool.
